A photograph of a modern outdoor dining set in a garden. The set consists of a round, light-colored table and four chairs with a distinctive orange-brown, woven plastic or metal frame. The chairs have a curved backrest and armrests. The table is set on a gravel patio. In the background, there is a wooden trellis structure covered with a dark mesh, and various green plants and flowers, including a large potted plant with orange flowers. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting a sunny day.

About the Materials

01 Rope Wicker

Rope, known for its simple yet stunning look, is durable and flexible, making it ideal for various designs. It's a top choice for weaving outdoor wicker furniture, offering a unique beauty unmatched by other materials.

02 Teak Wood

Like human fingerprints, each teak tree is unique, even in managed plantations. This results in natural variations that give teak its inherent appeal, making it one of the finest woods available.

03 Wicker

Manufactured with renowned German engineering, REHAU has been pioneering all-weather rattan since 1948. Their UV-resistant, weatherproof, and durable material is maintenance-free, easy to clean, non-toxic, environmentally friendly, colorfast, and scratch-free.

About the Materials

04 Aluminum

Aluminum, a lightweight and corrosion-resistant alternative to steel, is ideal for outdoor furniture. Our powder-coated aluminum pieces come in various colors and require minimal maintenance with occasional mild detergent washes.

05 Fabric

Sunbrella, the leading fabric supplier for shade structures, marine canvas, and upholstery, offers UV-protected, water-resistant, and stain-proof textiles. Their fabrics are designed for durability, resisting fading and degradation from sunlight and chemicals.

06 Foam

QuickDry foam, made through Hydro-Blast Reticulation, features open cells for fast drying. This high-performance foam is specially designed for outdoor cushions.
